

Designed for leaders of all levels

This training session is designed for leaders of all levels and those who are interested in becoming leaders. We'll focus on the foundational pieces of leadership that will create success in today's challenging environment. People leave people, not companies. That is why key leadership principles are so important to establish early on. Many of our leaders are promoted into leadership roles from individual contributor roles without being given the tools to lead effectively. This course provides a high-level overview of helpful tools.

Our agenda includes:

- Employee Engagement
- Recognition
- Building Trust

Kristi Spaethe is the Chief Executive Officer of The People Perspective and People Perspective Search and Recruiting designed to be the one stop shop for all things people in the communities that these organizations serve.
